Listen for Interesting Words

Use them when you are speaking and writing.

It is important to listen for interesting words when we read. This helps us expand our vocabulary, and understand the story better.

While you are reading:

- Use a piece of paper, or the organizer on the next page, to write down interesting words that you find in the text.
- If you aren't sure what the word means, look it up in a dictionary.
- Try to use the word in a sentence.
- Use the word when you are writing and speaking.
- You can also listen for interesting words when you are watching TV, or listening to other people talk.

As you are reading, look for interesting words.
