

Practice and Read Again

When you practice reading a story more than once, you become more fluent, and start to read like you talk.

- Find a good-fit book that you enjoy, and pick a few pages, or a paragraph, to re-read.
- Read with expression! Change your voice when different characters are talking.
- With your parents' help, record your voice, and listen to yourself reading the story.