

Trade a Word or Guess a Word that Makes Sense

If you have tried other strategies, and you still can't figure out a word, you can trade it for another word, or guess a word that makes sense. The important part is that the sentence still makes sense.

Example: The butterfly is fluttering.

If I didn't know how to read the word "fluttering," I could change the sentence to "The butterfly is flying," and it would still make sense.
